The three cells on the lower portion of the table give the results of an annual evaluation of providers' services in the 2007-2008 school year, conducted by the Center for Research in Education Policy (CREP), University of Memphis. The full report is available at http://tn.gov/education/fedprog/doc/SESTN07_08ReportFINAL_000.pdf.

Cell #1 – STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT: Shows the provider's effectiveness in raising student achievement on the state tests in reading, language arts, and mathematics. Results may be listed as follows:

- Insufficient data: There was not enough information available that would indicate effectiveness. This could mean that the provider tutored small numbers of students or achievement test scores were not available for students.
- Above Standards: There is evidence that tutored students are making substantive achievement gains.
- Acceptable: There is evidence that tutored students are making achievement gains.
- Marginal Quality: There is some evidence that some tutored students are making achievement gains.
- Below Standards in Student Achievement: Students have not shown gains after tutoring. Results are statistically significant and favor non-SES students.

Cell #2 – CUSTOMER SATISFACTION: Shows the results of survey responses from parents, teachers, principals, school system SES coordinators, and SES providers.

- Insufficient data: There was not enough information available. This could mean that a small number of parents, teachers, principals, SES coordinators, and providers responded to the survey.
- Communication: Survey respondents' perception of how well the provider communicated with parents, teachers, and principals about students' progress.
- Instructional Plan: Survey respondents' perception of how well the provider planned to meet each student's academic needs.
- Local and State Standards: Survey respondents' perception of how well the provider aligned its tutoring to the school district and state standards for student learning.
- Special Education and ELL Students: Survey respondents' perception of how well the provider served the needs of special education and English Language Learners (ELL).
- Assessment of provider overall: Survey respondents' overall satisfaction with the provider's services.

Cell #3 – A statement that the provider makes about its services.

Evaluation Results Student Achievement Reading/Language Arts Insufficient data Math Insufficient data	Customer Satisfaction Communication ★★★★★ Instructional Plan ★★★★★ Local & State Standards ★★★★★ Special Ed. and ELL Students ★★★★★ Assessment of Provider Overall ★★★★★	The provider says this about its services: "X-CEL services begin with a student assessment using the WRAT-Expanded, WRAT4-PMV, the MBA, or ACT. Following the assessment, an Individual Learning Plan is developed. Tutorial sessions are at least one hour. During the hour each student receives at least 10 minutes of individualized instruction, followed by worksheets, computer exercises, or other reinforcement and/or feedback activities to determine if student needs additional instruction. Tutors use workbook, student textbooks, approved computerized materials, and standardized tests to teach and assess skills. Educational games are used to reinforce instruction and add variety and fun. Once a skill is mastered, the tutor moves to the next skill. Each tutor works with a maximum of five students per hour."
